The ZYTO 5.0 Elite Scan

Health Matters uses a simple and painless process to gather vast amounts of information about your body's needs and preferences. The ZYTO 5.0 Elite Scan is a bio-communication tool that uses the interface of an ergonomically designed hand cradle to send subtle energetic impulses to your body and gather and record those responses. ZYTO scans do not treat or diagnose, but rather provide information and data to qualified health care professionals. The scan is safe for infants, children, adults of all ages, people with pacemakers, and pregnant women.

Upon completion of our 30 minute scan, results are analyzed by Dee Baudoin, a Certified Natural Health Professional (CNHP) and Master Herbalist who is highly trained in interpreting, patterning, and applying the results of the ZYTO 5.0 Elite scan. Dee is committed to informing and educating her clients based on the data gathered by the scan combined with her own professional experience of over 25 years in health, nutrition, and natural wellness.

Our uniquely comprehensive biosurvey at Health Matters was custom-created by Dee to reflect 25 years of experience in natural health and is able to provide information regarding thousands of bodily stressors including the following:

- viruses
- bacteria
- parasites
- diseases
- heavy metals
- chemicals
- mycotoxins
- geopathic stress
- weak organs and glands
- hormones
- candida
- food stressors
- ...and more!

How Does It Work?

The body is constantly communicating with itself in order to maintain optimal health and functionality; ZYTO technology has simply taken advantage of this physiological concept in order to "listen to" and "communicate with" the body. Essentially, the ZYTO software asks the body questions by sending virtual stressors (VSI) and the body responds. The "question," or virtual stressor, is a digital signal that is correlated to something physical. Your body's "response" is a change in the electrical properties of your skin. The digital VSI is then associated with the physical item it represents using a proprietary entanglement process called linking. Your body already knows what it needs, so let's start listening!
